Ancient Troy.

Marshal von Moltke, during his military mission in Turkey, found time to pay a visit to the supposed site of Troy, and he describes this visit in his recently published book: "I directed my footsteps (he says) towards a spot to which are attached the oldest of historical souvenirs, but where time has probably blotted out all traces of man's handiwork, toward Ionia. Strange to say, one still has pointed out to one with great appearances of probability the theatre of events which were related centuries ago by a blind poet, and which occurred centuries before his day." Here are the two streams where the women of Troy washed their "shining robes," there the Simois descends from Mount Ida and confounds its turbulent waters with the calm flood of the Scamander. The waves still roar around Cape Sigana and the island of Imbros. The white peak of Mount Ida, from whence Jupiter contemplated the doings of gods and of men, is visible from every point in the plain, and Possidon, "who made the earth tremble," could not indeed have found a more splendid seat than the "loftiest point of verdant Samothrace, from the height of which he witnessed the strife and its issue." In the "Iliad" it is necessary to make a distinction between the truth of the events which occurred and that of the poem itself. That all the princes of whom Homer speaks combined beneath the walls of Pergamon was as doubtful as the genuineness of his deities; but one thing is certain—Homer made his story fit in with the locality which he must have known most thoroughly. The site of the city is determined by the fact that the Scamander's source was just beneath it, and that the waters of the Simois washed its walls. When it is necessary to fix it more exactly, the opinions of the savants vary considerably; I, who am not an authority in science, was merely guided by military instinct towards the spot which one would choose for the erection of an impregnable fort. It, after leaving the Turkish fortress of Rumkaleh, at the southern issue of the Dardanelles, you sail up the Simois for three hours, you will find that the plan leads to a chain of hills at the foot of which is situated the village of Bunarbaschi. It received its present name from the source of the Scamander which here springs from out of the chalkstone. Let us now ascend the slight incline, and we shall reach the spot where most travellers place Troy. Farther on—about a thousand yards off—there is a deep gorge, and beyond a still higher plateau about five hundred feet long, which is undoubtedly the position of Pergamon. A small mound is held to be the tomb of Hector. And now, starting from this supposed Troy, take eight hundred steps forward in the same direction toward the mass stones which is perhaps the fallen tower of the Scaean gate, whence Priam watched the combats and whence the son of Andromache started back in terror before the planned helmet of his sire. You then see before you a piece of ground about five hundred feet each way, and behind you some heights which served for the citadel of Priam, with its six hundred apartments. These heights are bounded on three sides by inaccessible cliffs; the fourth side is practicable, and it is there that must have been situated the Scaean gate—the only line, indeed, that is mentioned as existing. From thence the new entrance of the source of the Scamander and the plains where the battles took place, the windings of the Simois, the tombs of Achilles and of Ajax, the position occupied by the fleet near the sandy shore, Mount Ida and the verdant Samothrace. Nor is this all. Along these heights I discovered foundations of walls cutting each other at right angles, and built of stones of various kinds without cement. I will not argue that these are the walls of the houses of Troy; but it is well known that temples have been raised and towns christened in memory of that city. It may be that some such monument has sprung from the ruins of ancient Troy, and that they have furnished the numerous capitals and sculptured columns which cover the whole cemetery of the wretched village of Bunarbaschi. Among the most remarkable objects in this very interesting country are the tombs of Achilles, especially of one of recognition by the description given of it in Homer.

CANDIDATES.

TO THE VOTERS OF THE CITY OF ALEXANDRIA: Believing I have discharged the duties of the Mayoralty to the satisfaction of the people, I respectfully announce myself a candidate for re-election, and solicit your support. [ap 8-17] HUGH LATHAM.

ANNOUNCEMENT.

D. L. Smoot, esq., having declined being a candidate for re-election to the office of Commonwealth's Attorney for the city of Alexandria, at the suggestion of my friends, I have consented to be a candidate for the same, subject to the decision of a convention in case one is desired or called. [ap 6-17] WILLIAM KILGOUR.

20th ANNUAL MEETING OF THE PEDESTRIAN AGRICULTURAL SOCIETY.

The Stockholders of the Pedestrian Agricultural Society will hold their regular annual meeting on Monday, the 25th day of May next, at Culpeper. The President, Vice Presidents, Executive Committee and other officers of the Society will be elected, and the programme of business for the present year determined upon. Addresses will be delivered by several of the most distinguished agriculturists and orators of the State, and all who are interested in, or friendly to the agricultural, mechanical, commercial and industrial interests of the District, are invited to attend. The hospitality of the citizens of Culpeper and its vicinity is cordially tendered, and a committee of strangers should also be present, as the weather is propitious, the second day's entertainment will be held on the Society's beautiful and spacious fair grounds, half a mile from town.

Those who have not paid their last year's assessment are earnestly requested to do so promptly. By order of the Executive Committee. L. L. LEWIS, Secretary.

The papers of the District are requested to insert this notice until the 20th of May. Culpeper county, ap 26-1awd

FOR SALE OR RENT.

FOR SALE TO CHANGE BUSINESS. The STOCK, FIXTURES and GOOD WILL of the best moving store in Alexandria. The stock on hand is small. Parties wishing to go into a good paying business will address "G," through the Postoffice. my 1-601f

The STORE in the Exchange Building, next to the alley, is for rent, well located for most any kind of business. Apply to GEO. Y. WORTHINGTON, Pres. Exc. Building Co. [ap 30-5t]

FOR RENT—The three-story slate-roofed BRICK RESIDENCE, with office, on King street, second west of Washington, at present occupied by myself. Possession delivered on or after May 1st. For terms apply to E. M. LOWE. [ap 23-1dt]

VALUABLE LAND IN FAIRFAX CO., AND LOT IN ALEXANDRIA, VA., AT PRIVATE OR PUBLIC SALE.—I have for sale, at very low rates, and on long credits, 840 ACRES OF VALUABLE LAND in Fairfax county, Va., all within 34 and 7 miles of Alexandria, and 10 miles of Washington city. On good wagon and turnpike roads, and within one mile of railroads. It is mostly red soil, lying on backhills and Holmes' Run. About 500 acres of it is beautiful meadow land, not subject to overflow, and with sufficient timber for all purposes. It is divided into 7 tracts, of 144, 143, 120, 206, 44 and 34 acres. The first four tracts adjoin, and form a compact body, and will be sold together if desired.

A LOT OF GROUND in Alexandria, situated on the east side of Union street, between Wolfe and Wilkes, adjoining Smith's Foundry and wharf on the west, fronting on Union st. 126-10-12 feet, running east 80 feet to a 20 foot alley.

Plans of this property can be seen at my office, No. 5 south Union street. [mar 1-17] W. M. H. IRWIN.

VALUABLE REAL ESTATE AT PRIVATE SALE.—Will be sold a bargain the two elegantly situated BUILDING LOTS, on the south side of King street, between Alfred and Patrick streets, a few doors west of Alfred. Also the two-story BRICK HOUSE and LOT, on the same square, at present occupied by Mr. John H. Padgett as a store and dwelling. The location of this property may be said to be as desirable as that of any other in the city of Alexandria, having sufficient front for the buildings of the first class, or can be divided so as to make three good size building lots for small tenements. Persons wishing to examine the premises with a view to purchasing will please call on C. C. Bradley, esq., who can be found at his Cabinet factory, on the corner of King and Alfred streets, or upon the subscriber, at 88 King street, on the corner of Royal street. JOHN T. CREIGHTON, Att'y. for the heirs of H. Bradley, dec'd. [ap 11-100f]

VALUABLE REAL ESTATE FOR SALE. 100 ACRES OF IMPROVED LAND, on the Middle River Turnpike, 7 miles from Washington and 4 from Alexandria, with a beautiful view of the latter city and of the Potomac river. The improvements consist of a BRICK DWELLING HOUSE, with all the necessary outbuildings, and an abundance of serviceable land. The farm is well watered, and has on it a plenty of timber.

800 ACRES HEAVILY TIMBERED LAND—8 miles from Washington city—same distance from Alexandria, and about 3 miles from a station on the W. & O. R. R., offering a ready market for wood and timber.

A FARM, in Fauquier county, 6 miles from Warrenton, and within two miles of a station on the Warrenton branch of the O. & A. M. & R. R. The tract contains about 400 acres; is well timbered and watered, and is considered fine grazing land.

The above property, the title to which is without defect, will be sold cheap and upon accommodating terms. Apply to A. B. Gazette office, feb 11-17
